Structuring your analysis is not easy

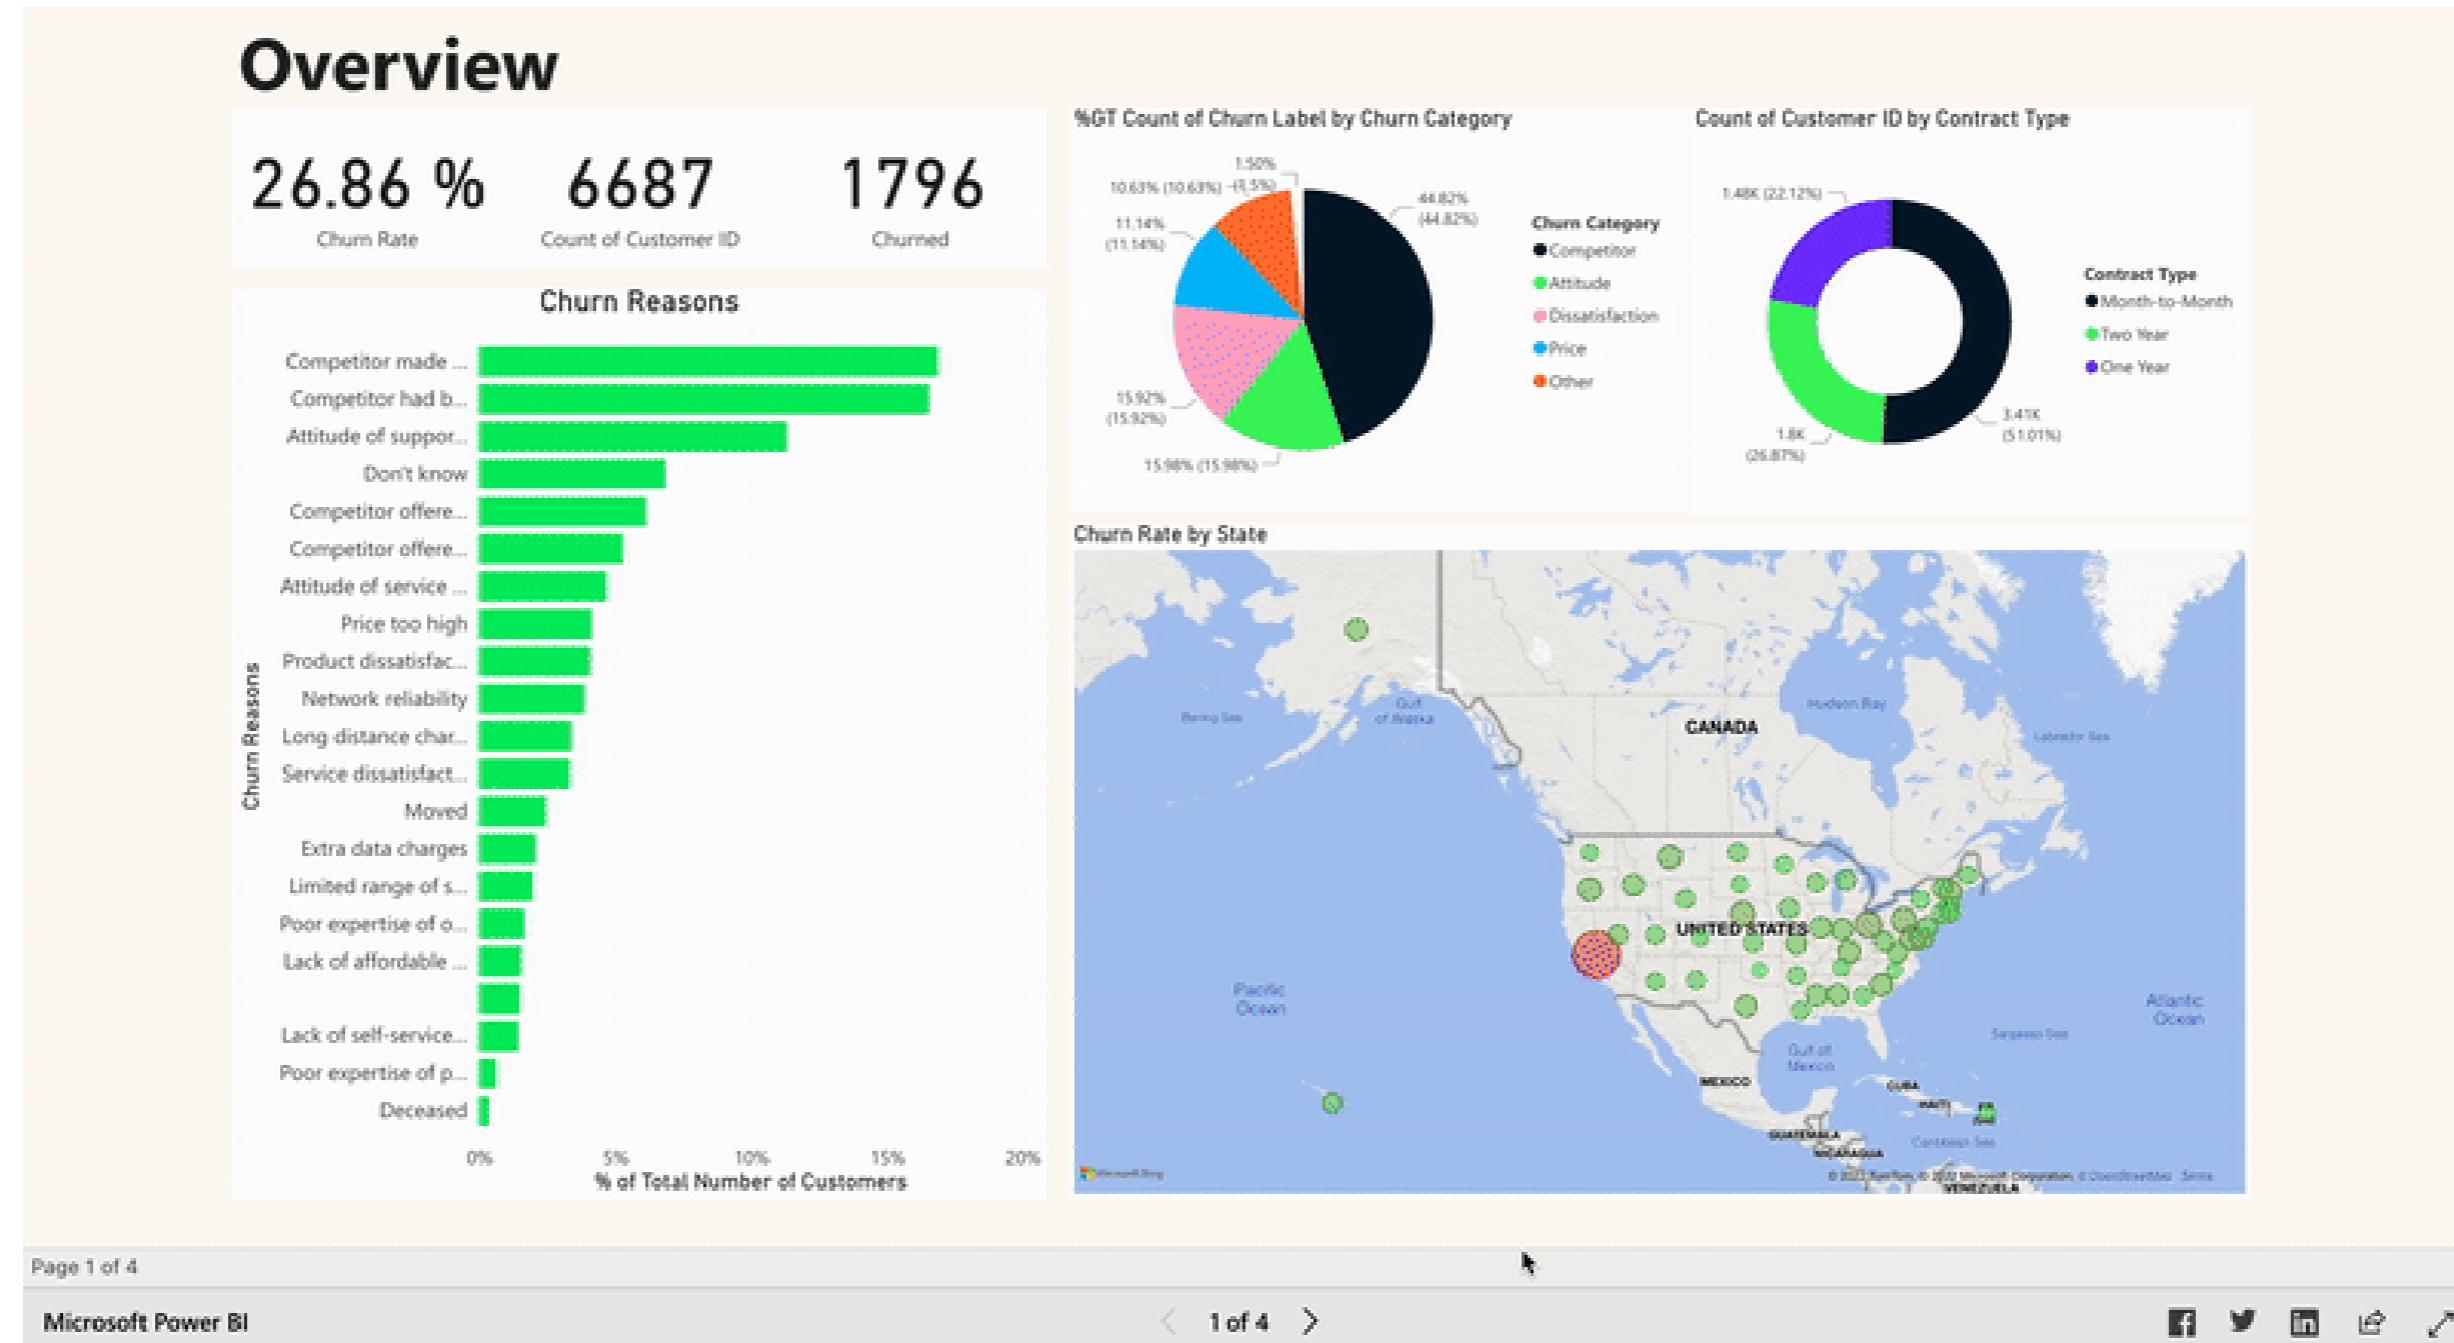

- Not informative to publish visualizations fitted randomly on different pages.
- Need to combine information which fits well together.

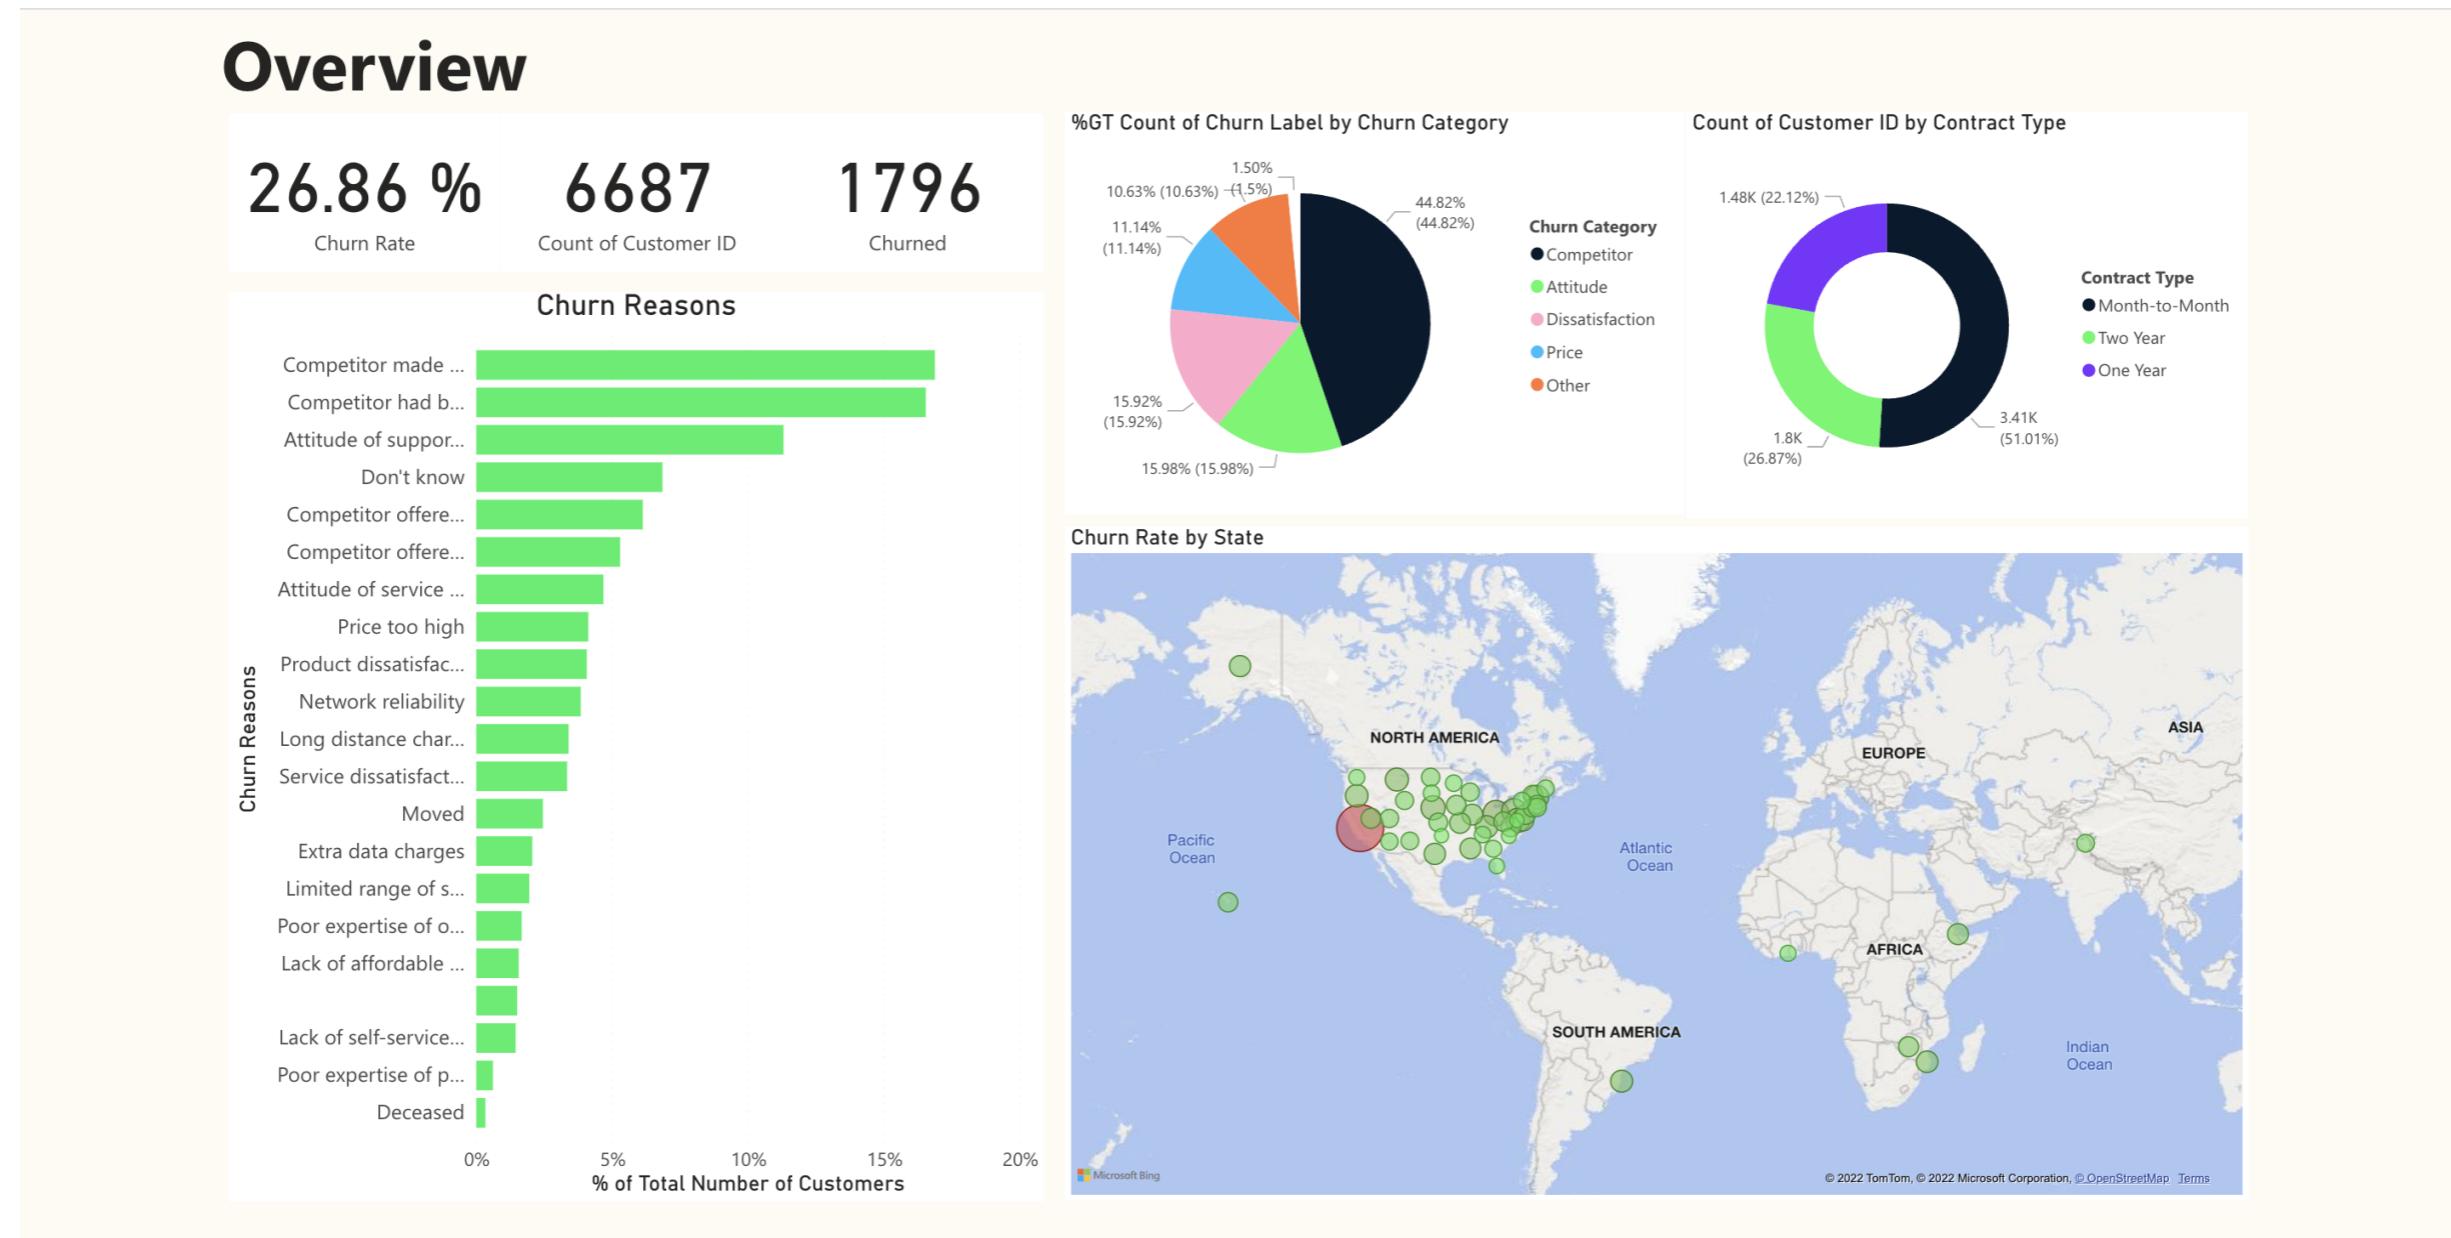

It's time to create a narrative for our stakeholders

The screenshot shows the Power BI Home page. On the left, there's a sidebar with options like Home, Browse, Create, Datasets, Goals, Apps, Deployment pipelines, Learn, Workspaces, and Databasel. The main area has a greeting "Good afternoon, Penny" and a subtitle "Find and share actionable insights to make data-driven decisions". Below this is a "Recommended" section with five cards: "Adventure Works DW" (pink), "Databasel_Customer_C..." (blue), "Databasel" (pink), "My workspace" (pink), and "Adventure W" (light blue). At the bottom, there's a "Recent" section with three items: "Databasel_Customer_Churn_Dashboard_R..." (Report, opened now, Databasel), "Databasel" (Workspace, opened now, Workspaces), and "My workspace" (Workspace, opened 2 hours ago, Workspaces).

Recent	Name	Type	Opened	Location	Endorsement	Sensitivity
	Databasel_Customer_Churn_Dashboard_R...	Report	now	Databasel	—	—
	Databasel	Workspace	now	Workspaces	—	—
	My workspace	Workspace	2 hours ago	Workspaces	—	—

Optional future work: Bookmarks and buttons

- Course: Reports in Power BI
 - Intermediate Power BI knowledge required
 - Bookmarks: capturing the state of a report page and offering the ability to save your results
 - Buttons: helping you with navigation and exploration

Congratulations!
